About Fred

Fred Blickenstorfer is our «all-rounder» and as a practitioner has many years of experience in the sale of premium products. As the owner of an event agency, he implements projects with passion and emotion.

As a networker, interim manager and brand ambassador, he has insight into a wide variety of industries and also makes your product come alive in a playful way. In his free time he plays golf and gets strength and vision in the mountains as a part time mountain hut warden for the swiss alpine club.
